Build for the LEARNER

Seven questions before your next build.

Seven lessons from EdTech Week 2026 for anyone building a learning product, one letter each. Answer them with your team before your next build cycle, pilot, or pitch. About twenty minutes.

Product or program _____ Team _____ Date _____

L	Lead with the relationship Whose learning relationship does this make stronger?	☐ Clear ☐ Not yet
E	Evidence from learning science Which learning research is this design built on?	☐ Clear ☐ Not yet
A	Ask across silos Have an educator and a developer reviewed this together?	☐ Clear ☐ Not yet
R	Recruit learners as co-designers When did learners last shape or critique a feature?	☐ Clear ☐ Not yet
N	Name the learning goal first Can we state the learning goal before the feature?	☐ Clear ☐ Not yet
E	Eyes on every output Who reviews what reaches a learner?	☐ Clear ☐ Not yet
R	Run pilots with real partners What can our pilot partners change?	☐ Clear ☐ Not yet

Our next step

Pick the one "Not yet" that matters most. Who will do what, and by when?

Pocket card. Cut along the dashed line and keep it where the team plans.

BUILD FOR THE

LEARNER

- L Lead with the relationship
- E Evidence from learning science
- A Ask across silos
- R Recruit learners as co-designers
- N Name the learning goal first
- E Eyes on every output
- R Run pilots with real partners