Pilot Plan

Test it small. Build it right.

One page to plan a small test of a new program, service, or offer before you build the full version. About thirty minutes, on your own or with one colleague.

01

The idea in one sentence

If we [offer this], then [these people] will [do or have something new].

02

The first group

Who is in it, how many, and how you will invite them. A small group is enough: five to fifteen people.

03

The smallest version

What they will experience, how often, and for how long. Cut anything the test does not need.

04

What should change

One or two signals, and how you will capture them: their exact words, a count, or a before and after.

05

Who owns what

One name next to each step: inviting, running, collecting what happened, and deciding.

06

The dates

Start

Midpoint check-in

Finish

Decision meeting

07

The decision at the end

What would make you keep it, change it, or stop? What will you show a funder, partner, or board?

☐ Keep ☐ Change ☐ Stop
